Ground rules: Open notes in own handwriting or typed by one self. No other resources allowed.
Individual work.

1.Suppose the unknown population size is N, and fifty members of the species are selected and given an identifying mark. Sometime later a sample of size twenty is taken from the population, and it is found to contain X of the twenty previously marked.

Find the distribution of X.